Consider these or other basic headings that can be used in every class that you are teaching.

Subheadings can be specific to each individual class.

It’s ideal if you can create a single set of Headings and Sub-Headings that can be used for all of your classes. This will result in not having to create one system of navigation, one time that can be used multiple times.